

EMOTIONAL DAMAGE

A SOLANA MEME COIN PROJECT

Token Name : Emotional Damage

Block Chain : Solana

Ticker : EMO

Inspiration : Steve He (O'Byrne)

White Papers :

Abstract: Welcome to the wild and whimsical world of Emotional Damage (EMO), the meme coin that doesn't just ride the crypto rollercoaster, it brings the popcorn and a whoopee cushion. Built on Solana's turbocharged blockchain, EMO is here to inject speed, humor, and a dash of craziness into your crypto portfolio.

Buckle up for the funniest ride in the metaverse!

1. Introduction:

1.1 LOLs Per Second:

EMO isn't just a meme coin; it's a comedy show on the blockchain.

Solana's speed ensures that your transactions are faster than cat and dog videos going viral.

1.2 Tagline:

"EMO - Because even your wallet needs therapy and a good laugh! Strap in for financial rollercoasters and emotionally-powered tears of joy!"

2. Key Features:

2.1 Tokenomics -

EMO's tokenomics is hotter than a chili-eating contest. We burn tokens faster than you can say "moon mission." Less supply, more giggles.

Every sunday @ 5:30 UST witness the emotional damage as we send tokens to Jesus!

"Burn Baby Burn"

100,000 EMOs will be permanently damaged from Dev's Wallet.

Public (70%):

This portion is allocated to the general public through liquidity, or other token distribution events.

Developer (15%):

This allocation is reserved for the development team that is responsible for creating and maintaining the project. It incentivizes the developers to work on the project and aligns their interests with the success of the cryptocurrency.

Marketing (10%):

This percentage is dedicated to marketing efforts. Marketing is crucial for creating awareness, attracting users, and promoting the adoption of the cryptocurrency. It includes advertising, partnerships, community engagement, and other promotional activities.

Contributors (4%):

This portion is set aside for contributors who may not be directly involved in development but have made valuable contributions to the project. Contributors could include advisors, consultants, or individuals who have added significant value to the project.

Original Members (1%):

This percentage is reserved for the original member Steve He (O' Byrne) the founder of Asian Difficulty "The Emotional Damage". It serves as a reward for their initial efforts towards the humour.

2.2 Emotional Staking:

Laugh Your Assets Off:

Stake your EMO tokens and let the blockchain know you've got the feels. The more emotional your stake, the more tokens you earn. It's like getting paid for your therapy sessions.

Brace Yourself for the EMO-vasion!

Starting from the Day of Bitcoin Halving, Stake your EMO tokens for a Rollercoaster Ride of Rewards, and yes, we pay in BTC because why settle for anything less than a crypto goldmine!"

3. Use Cases:

3.1 NFTs -

Mememes on the Blockchain Canvas:

Turn your favorite EMO moments into NFTs that are rarer than a unicorn doing stand-up. Collecting moments has never been this hilarious.

As with staking EMONiFTis will also go live on BTC Halving Day!

4. Roadmap:

4.1 Launch Party:

EMO is launching with a bang, a kazoo orchestra, and possibly a chicken dance. Get ready to laugh, cry (from laughter), and hodl on.

4.2 Partnering with Solana Influencers and Geniuses:

We're teaming up with callers, meme lords, AMA masters and anyone who can make us snort milk out of our noses. Together, we'll conquer the internet one chuckle at a time.

4.3 The Meme Renaissance:

We'll keep evolving, upgrading, and throwing surprise parties because EMO isn't just a meme; it's an emotion!.

5. Conclusion:

In a world that sometimes takes itself too seriously, Emotional Damage emerges as the crypto class clown. With humor, heart, and Solana's speed, EMO isn't just a meme coin; it's your front-row ticket to the comedy show of the Bull Run.

Disclaimer:

This white paper is more of a laugh riot than financial advice. Invest wisely, keep the chuckles rolling, and consult with financial professionals if you're not sure whether Emotional Damage (EMO) is your kind of joke.
